COLORADO TO GULF HIGHWAY FOR BRAZOS COUNTY

President Walker and Other Officials of C. & G. Highway Visit Bryan and College on Inspection Tour From Vancouver to Mexico City—Met at Robertson County Line By Bryan Committee.

Bryan was included on Wednesday in quite an important highway inspection tour from Denver, Colorado, to Galveston, and Tampico, Mexico. It was the itinerary of the Colorado to Gulf Highway which promises to become an international route from Vancouver, B. C., to Mexico City. The selection of these great highways are now in their infancy but the towns that are not designated on them now will be left off in the future just as any towns missed the trunk railways in the 65's and 70's and are now paying the penalty. Hence it is important to have these highways designated through Brazos county as there is an attempt to have the tourist travel from the Mountains to the Gulf to go west of the Brazos river. In the next ten years the federal and state governments are going to spend billions on the highway systems of the United States and Texas and the several counties should unite with these great systems so that they will not in the near future be forgotten by the tourist traffic which is becoming a great factor in all development of our untouched and limitless resources. The party making the trip from Denver to Mexico were met at the Robertson county line Wednesday afternoon which included a forty-minute wait at Benchley on account of the delay at Calvert for a barbecue tendered the visitors. In the party who went to Benchley were: County Judge H. O. Ferguson, Secretary S. E. Eberstadt of the Bryan and Brazos Chamber of Commerce; Chairman D. L. Wilson, of the Brazos County Highway Committee and Lee J. Rountree. When they met the party they came to Bryan and were joined by Mayor Tyler Haswell and a conference of thirty minutes was held in the Bryan Chamber of Commerce rooms. The visitors were: Hon. C. H. Walker, of Dalhart, former member of the Texas legislature, president of the C. to G. Highway; Judge Hugh L. Small, of Fort Worth, and County Judge of Tarrant county, J. Allen Wilkoff, of Clayton, N. M., vice president, and Capt. Bernard McMahon, of Denver, field representative. They left here at 5:30 p. m. for College thence to Navasota to spend the night. They will conclude the trip to Galveston and Brownsville, thence to Tampico, Mexico. The party expressed great pleasure at knowing that the concrete roadway had been completed in the Navasota Bottom, which they said would double the tourist traffic through Brazos to the Gulf next summer.

The itinerary began at Denver, Colorado, on September 12 and will conclude at Brownsville on September 29 when the members hope to go to Tampico. The route will reach many important centers and the Gulf Division includes Fort Worth, Hillsboro, Marlin, Waco, Calvert, Hearne, Bryan, Navasota, Hempstead, Houston and Galveston.

GOVERNOR NEFF WILL INSPECT STATE LEVEES

Austin, Texas, Sept. 23.—Governor Neff said today that in the near future he expects to make an inspection of the levees built along Texas streams under specifications of the Texas Reclamation department; that he had fixed one date for the trip, which was to have been made in company with State Reclamation Engineer Arthur A. Stiles, but it was rained out. The governor and Mr. Stiles expect to go as soon as the latter finishes his work in the Red river boundary case.

Mr. Stiles said that 500,000 acres have been reclaimed with 500 miles of levee averaging twenty feet high which cost $8,000,000. Wonderful crops are growing on fertile valley land behind these levees where flood waters once swept.

Not a single levee designed or approved by the state reclamation department has gone out in any flood. The recent high water in South Central Texas was not in streams leveed under state supervision.

Governor Is Interested.

Governor Neff said that he has had an intense interest in the levee work in Texas and that during his campaign he advocated complete drainage in Texas, both of storm waters and in swamp lands. Much valuable land would be reclaimed in that manner and all of it is highly productive, he asserted. "I want to have first-hand intimate knowledge of our levee and the kind and extent of the work," declared the governor in explaining the purpose of his coming visit.

Mr. Stiles will leave soon to make another survey of the disputed section of Red river, more elaborate than the first reconnaissance, to be submitted in evidence in the boundary case. Mr. Stiles has just returned from Oklahoma, where his maps were placed in evidence in the testimony being taken.

JUDGE MILES CROWLEY DIES AT GALVESTON

(By Associated Press) Galveston, Sept. 22.—Judge Miles Crowley, of the Galveston county court, died at his home here today. He was a well-known figure in Texas politics. He served in both houses in the Texas legislature and one term in congress. He was recently elected county judge.

P. S. Park returned last night from a business trip to Galveston.

TRUITT COTTON SELLS AT PREMIUM

Mr. S. E. Cavitt, who has his entire farm as well as his gin territory planted in Truitt's Latest Improved Cotton, sold 50 bales in Bryan yesterday at a premium of from five to seven dollars per bale. Due to the extremely dry summer, the length of the staple is not more than one inch to one and one-sixteenth inch, but it is unusually strong which increases its spinning value. If more farmers in Brazos county will encourage the growing of better staple as Mr. Cavitt has done, Bryan's cotton market will continue to be the best in this section of the state.

This cotton was sold by Jesse M. Cook to A. K. Brown, agent for Bush-Witherspoon company, of Waco. Both Mr. Brown and Mr. Cook are encouraging the growing of better staple as well as some of our progressive farmers.

TO EX-CONFEDERATES OF BRAZOS COUNTY

Comrades—All ex-Confederates of Brazos county are urged to meet at the Carnegie library at 2 o'clock on Saturday, September 24, for the purpose of organizing a Camp of Veterans. Let every one attend. (Signed) A. J. TABOR, J. P. McFARLAND, J. R. GUESS, W. E. SAUNDERS, H. B. STODDARD, H. P. STACY, JIM MATHIS, J. W. SHEPPARD, GEO. PRICE, E. W. TARRANT, BERRY GANDY, EVANDER GANDY, M. R. PHILLIPS and ALEX BEARD.

IDLE LABOR TAKES PLACE OF STRIKERS ON GALVESTON DOCKS

(By Associated Press) Galveston, Sept. 22.—Longshoremen of the Mallory line refused to go to work and struck this morning when the company declined to adopt their method proposed for checking workmen. Other labor was promptly employed and the docks will be the scene of activity by 10 o'clock. No trouble is anticipated, as there is much idle labor here.

Miss Helen Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Moore, will go to Belton, Sunday, where she will enter Baylor college for the 1921-22 term.

BELL-HOPS INDICTED CHARGE OF PROCURING

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 22.—Illie Dave, Orville Dave, Julian Dave and John Dave, four negro bell boys at a local hotel, were charged with procuring in complaints filed late Tuesday in Justice court. Two cases each were filed against the first three. The affidavits charge that the negroes solicited white women for immoral purposes. Bonds of $500 in each case were allowed. Officers state that the negro bell-hops and porters in numerous and sundry hotels in Texas take charge of all immoral women who come to the hotels and in this way many heinous social crimes are committed. Since the closing of the reservations these things have been a notorious business in Texas. The offense carries such a small penalty that it does not stop the practice even if a conviction is secured. This is very hard as witnesses cannot be secured even when it is known such immoral practices are going on in many of the hotels of Texas.

CHICAGO ATTEMPTING TO PROVE LIBEL IN TRIBUNE CRITICISM

(By Associated Press) Chicago, Sept. 22.—Protection in "entrenched authority from inquiry and criticism is declared to be the end and animus" of city of Chicago's $10,000,000 libel suit against the Chicago Tribune by Weymouth Kirkland, of the Tribune's counsel, who opened argument in the case today. The city officials are attempting to secure judgment against the Tribune for its publication during the campaign, charging the city with being bankrupt.

(Special to Eagle) COLLEGE STATION, SEPT. 22.—

One of largest student bodies ever enrolled for a session of A and M. College had registered at noon today, with a half day remaining for registration before the time limit set by the registrar. The total number who had paid entrance fees at the fiscal department at noon was 1355 according to the count of Business Manager Walter Wiprecht indicating a registration for the regular session of 2,000. Others arrived on the noon train today and more are expected this afternoon and tonight. President Bizzell announces that he will turn no students away. This is in line with Dr. Bizzell's statement before the legislature in Austin when it was decided to stop the building program of all state educational institutions at this time.

SHEARMAN MURDER CASES IS BEFORE JURY

(By Associated Press) Midland, Sept. 22.—Argument in the Shearman case started today and the case is expected to go to the jury today. Both sides closed testimony yesterday, the defense placed only four witnesses on the stand. These contradicted the testimony of prosecution that the first shot was fired by the elder Sherman. Mr. Sherman testified that the first shot was fired from behind him and knocked hat from off his head. The Shearman's are charged with the murder of Prohibition Enforcement officers at their ranch near El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Martin, of Steep Hollow, was in Bryan today.

Bryan Hi Vs. Bremond Hi

Friday afternoon September 23, 1921 Bryan High open their season by meeting the strong team from Bremond High. This game is expected to be one of the most interesting games of the season. Bryan High has a very promising squad with the "old reliable" Coach C. B. Hudson and Captain Tatum and fifteen letter men of last year's squad. In reviewing the notorious players of this season appearing in the game Friday with Bremond High we see Captain Tatum filling his old responsible position at tackle,

Norman Dansby and Willie Dobrovolsky, two of Bryan High's fast backfields who will be seen in action Friday against Bremond at Edge Field, 4 p. m.

Norman Dansby tearing through the line at fullback, Criss Cortmeglia starring as one of the halfbacks, Mit Dansby guiding the team at quarter, and Dobrovolsky creating excitement with his long end runs.

Looking over the strong line we find Edward Levinson the all-state guard tearing away the opponents defense. "Fritz" Boyett back on the job at end and strengthening the team with his long kick offs. Wilcox the fast end is remembered by his extraordinary efforts in recovering punts. Howard Satterwhite the noted tackle, another all state man, can always be distinguished by the holes made in offense line. Judson Conway, or "old farmer" as he is known, is back at his old position at guard making it hard for his opponents. "Cotton" Pate the man at the center of attraction always plays his part of the game. Other important men who will be seen in the games of this season are: Ralph Turner, Johnnie Ramsey, J. D. Martin Jr., Roy Wilson. They are all four letter men of last season's team and are showing up exceedingly well this season. Turner is playing his best game in the backfield, Ramsey is dividing his time with end and backfield, and he looks as though he will play many games in the later position. Martin is playing backfield for the first time, he has usually played in the line, his long punts looks as though they will be of great help to the team this season. Wilson is back at his old position at guard and is playing his best game. Of the new men on the squad this year Gardner, Jones, Zak, and Vance look as though they are sure to find a berth in the line. They are all fast heavy men, and they will no doubt be seen in action Friday. Bethea, a new man in the backfield is showing lots of speed, and his long spiral punts are among the best. Johnson, a letter man from Beaumont High is showing up well. Greland, Cloud, Kennedy and Hipp are all new men working for the positions at end and will perhaps be seen in the game tomorrow.

The game tomorrow will be the first of the season, and will be played on Edge Field, promptly at 4 p. m. Admission will be fifty cents. Coach Hudson reports that his men are working as never before to bring the state championship to Bryan, but the team in order to play it's very best must feel that the entire town of Bryan is behind them. Come out tomorrow and let the boys know that you are behind them to the last, and you can rest assured that at the end of the season the state honors will belong to Bryan.

FIFTEEN HUNDRED ARE KILLED IN OPPAU PLANT EXPLOSIONS

(By Associated Press) Mayence, Sept. 2.—French troops and volunteer workers toiled through the night in the ruins of Badische Anilene company's war-born chemical plant at Oppau where hundreds of workmen were killed in an explosion yesterday. Estimates of the number dead ranged as high as fifteen hundred early today but definite figures are obviously impossible. More than three hundred bodies have been recovered and it is known that at least fifteen hundred are injured. Oppau was virtually swept away by the explosion which hurled desolation over a wide district on the west bank of the Rhine between Mannheim and Frankenthal. Investigation of the explosion was ordered by the authorities. Order was maintained in Oppau in the vicinity by French soldiers of the district being in the zone of occupation. Already twenty-five hundred persons have received treatment for injuries sustained in the explosion, eight hundred and fifty dead bodies were recovered. This is the second time Oppau has been destroyed. It was swept away by flood in 1823 when dam above town broke.

TEN THOUSAND PER DAY FOR ADVERTISING

William Wrigley of chewing gum fame, spends $10,000 every day for advertising. He must get results or he would not have the money to spend. Other advertisers must also get results from their expenditures and some of them are enormous. For instance pick up the Saturday Evening Post and it is never lacking for ads. Its color page sells every week for $8,500 and the other cover pages bring the same figure and black and white sell at $7,000 per issue. The center-spread brings in $17,000.—Monthly Bulletin of National Editorial Association for September.

HORRIBLE EXPRESSION.

"You're dead!" Since the colonists sailed for America down to the present day, American philosophers, who have sounded the pressing calls of modern progress have insisted that there is sleep enough in the grave. Sluggards have been made out the worse menace of all times and the way sluggards have been handled is that of admonishing the "live ones" to be up and doing while sluggards sleep.

"Nothing without labor" the old Romans said and these old classics would have said that the "sine qua none" of progress—had they lived in this day when progress is essential—is labor.

Man has always persuaded himself that it is honorable and glorious to do the things he must do to exist, and thus he has progressed. In the days of chivalry and on up to the present day, unless disarmament comes true, man has found it necessary to fight for self-preservation and he had made war a glorious thing so as to make it easy for him to fight for life. Man has found it necessary to work to live ever since he was driven from the Garden of Eden and he has met the occasion by making working and earning one's living, a glorious and admirable thing. It is now becoming a glorious thing for women to have a vocation and take part in the world's work.

The march of progress must be met the same way. It must be made an admirable thing to progress and an execrable thing to be non-progressive. This can be done if a clearly defined idea of progress is maintained and wild dreamers are not followed to extremes. But it must be a horrible accusation to be called "dead."

This has built America from the days when Ben Franklin started inventing things and condemning sluggards. So today it must be woe to the man whom it is said: "You're dead!"

MAY SUMMONS K. K. K. OFFICIALS TO WASHINGTON

Attorney General Daugherty Has Directed Burns to Proceed—Mayor of Bartlett Declares There Will Be No K. K. K. Parade in Bartlett Tonight As Advertised in Newspapers.

(By Associated Press) Washington, Sept. 22.—High officials of the Ku Klux Klan may be summoned to Washington for interrogation by the Department of Justice Attorney General Daugherty announced today. Director William J. Burns, of the department bureau of investigation, has been instructed to set agents at work on investigation of Klan's organization in various parts of the country, Daugherty said. This includes Texas and Oklahoma.

POSTMASTER GENERAL HAYS IS INVESTIGATING. Washington, Sept. 22.—Following closely the statement that that the Department of Justice was investigating K. K. K., Postmaster General Hays in his conference with newspaper men disclosed that agents of his department also were inquiring into the activities of the organization. Mr. Hays declined to say on what angle the investigation was being made, and said he was not yet ready to make a statement concerning the matter further than to say that the inspection service is making a very vigorous investigation of the K. K. K.

KU KLUX KLAN IS ORGANIZING IN CHICAGO. Chicago, Sept. 22.—Despite police orders against parades or demonstrations by members of the Ku Klux Klan, a class of more than 100 was "naturalized" by the Klan at its downtown headquarters last night. The proceedings were surrounded with secrecy, as contrasted with the recent "initiation" of several hundred at Lake Zurich, a suburb. It was understood that those "naturalized" last night were among those "initiated" several weeks ago.

NEBRASKA STUDENTS ARE CUT OUT OF K. K. K. Omaha, Neb., Sept. 22.—The Ku Klux Klan will not admit Nebraska University students to membership, a letter received today by the Daily Nebraska, the university paper, and purporting to come from the Lincoln "province committee," declared. The action of the "province committee" is said to have come following the declaration of university officials yesterday that, according to a ruling of the senate of the institution, membership in a secret society would be grounds for expelling a student.

ORDERS K. K. K. PARADE STOPPED IN BARTLETT. Bartlett, Texas, Sept. 22.—Knights of Ku Klux Klan or any other body of masked men will not parade in the streets of Bartlett tonight according to Mayor Stanton Allen. Notices were posted recently and published in newspaper in the town that the Klan would parade tonight. Mayor Allen said, it was against the laws of Texas for persons to appear in disguise or masked and "I intend to see that the law is enforced." Mayor Allen added that sheriffs of two counties and several deputies would be on hand tonight as well as city marshal, and peace officers of Bartlett, and said he would deputise other citizens and all would be armed. I notified people proposing to stage the parade that it was against the law and would not be held, he said.

A BIG QUESTION IN TEXAS.

(Houston Chronicle) A few days ago The Chronicle in its editorial columns called attention to the question of the necessity of the state, without hope of aid from the federal government, undertaking the work of prevention of floods caused by the overflow of the Brazos, Colorado and Trinity Rivers. The federal government has in unmistakable terms made it clear that it will take no part in the work in so far as the purpose relates to protection of individual interests, but would confine itself to whatever work has relation to navigation; therefore the state alone must deal with the great question of flood prevention.

The ink was scarcely dry on the editorial page before the floods again took their tragic toll of lives and property. If the editorial be not accorded the dignity of correct prophecy it should at least serve to emphasize a need which has been made, if possible, more apparent than it was before. The question is, and always has been, and until the work is done, will continue to be, a big one. It is not political, it is not sectional, it is not local. It is a question of business, of economics, of statewide interest, of common sense and common humanity.

Whether floods will or will not come, is not a matter of probability, or conjecture, but of absolute certainty. They have been coming from a time so far back that "the memory of man runneth not to the contrary."

They have reaped at each coming a ruinous harvest of crops and barns and houses and homes and live stock, and human lives, and have left desolation and bankruptcy in their wake.

Every man knows this to be true. It is history, written in lines of horror and sorrow and financial ruin, yet no man has ever proposed to begin to see if some plan of prevention can not be put in force.

Legislators have spent thousands of dollars wrangling over the arrangement of legislative, senatorial and congressional districts. Some sections of Texas went mad over the question. They acted as though this was a life and death case. They have employed marvelous ingenuity in discovering some new object to tax. The Colorado from Austin to the Gulf of Mexico, the Brazos from Waco to the gulf and the Trinity from Fort Worth to Trinity Bay should be not only cleaned out but straightened.

These rivers traverse areas which can and do produce as great a variety of products and in as great quantities as does any other territory on earth, yet more than once when the far-spreading fields were rich in promise of a prodigious harvest they have, in the twinkling of an eye, been swept clean and bare, and ruin and want took the place of prosperity and plenty, and yet no legislature has ever sought, except in a local, restricted way to prevent such calamities. The very silence of the present desolation in the wake of floods is an eloquent and appealing call for help.

Students are now arriving in goodly numbers for the opening of A. and M. college. All are welcome to the college and Bryan.

Ben F. Harigel of the La Grange Journal, has returned from the mountains much refreshed. Ben says he is still "light" upstairs on account of the breakdown but he is ready to go again.

You can see 50 years ahead, if you are an overseas veteran, by taking a look at the aged veterans of the Confederacy today. His poverty, his bent form and frosted temples tell the melancholy tale.—Houston Post.

In times like this every man, rich and poor, in Brazos county should be ready and willing to do his duty—and more. There is nothing more helpful to the community than a willing worker.

Charles Schwab says good times are ahead, but adjustment must come first. In other words, the nation must get down to it and sweat honestly before it can hope to hear the dinner horn.—Houston Post.

There seems to be some difference of opinion as to just what kind of a fellow Fatty Arbuckle is. However, the opinion of the feeble stepmother of the millionaire clown, who has to take in washing to keep her two blind daughters from starving, is that Fatty is so low-down he would have to use an airplane to go to hell.—Waco News-Tribune.

Editor R. E. Scott, of the Bastrop Advertiser, says: "Tired business men in some of our cities are taking to ballet dancing in order to acquire that willowy appearance." It would take lots of dancing, R. E., for you to look willowy. Better saw wood for the coming winter as it going to be a cold one. GEORGE D. SHAW, Springfield, Mass.

"To say that I felt twenty-five years younger, twenty-five years healthier and twenty-five years stronger express what Tanlac has done for me better than any other way I can put it," said George D. Shaw, veteran of the Civil War, who now lives at 321 Walnut street, Springfield, Mass.

"I am now 78 years old and I don't hesitate to say I have never known a medicine to equal Tanlac. For fifteen years I was subject to attacks of indigestion that were so bad at times I would have to lay up for a week or two. For a long time I lived on crackers and milk alone as nothing else agreed with me.

"When I started on Tanlac I weighed only one hundred and seventeen pounds and my days were thought to

THE AMERICAN FLAG.

(For Houston Post.)

Bryan, Texas, September 15.—September 15 being my twenty-seventh birthday, I feel as though I should in some way do or say something toward paying the great debt that every American citizen owes to his country. I hope that the subject (The American Flag) which I have chosen to write about will be of interest to all and probably make some of our less patriotic citizens have a few true thoughts of life and the protection they receive from the nation in which they live. There are a few people who profess to be citizens of the United States that should be booted from our borders and these people are very distinguishable when the American flag is mentioned or placed before them. Do such citizens actually know what the American flag represents?

What does the flag of any nation represent? Why will the true adherent of any flag fight for it? If some of our imitative citizens would give the three above questions some earnest thought they would probably change their attitude toward the American flag, and as long as they professed to be true American citizens and living under the protection of it they should be willing to die for it. The protection the American flag affords is too good, because it protects those who would have it abused and trampled under their feet. If it were not for this protection the abusers of the American flag would never look like the same person after the offense.

A flag is the symbol of the integrity of a nation. It has been used since the oldest time to represent the character of its people. It is an interpretation of the nation's aims and ideals. The cross on the flag of the Crusaders represented the Christianity for which they were striving. The lion on the flag of Richard Coeur de Lion represented a bravery unsurpassed. These ideas soon give the flag a value to its people and a firm belief in the nation.

The people themselves thus attain a character, symbolized by the flag, of great faith, bravery and belief in the correctness of the things for which the flag stands. The American flag is the symbol of our national ideas and consisting of red stripes, white stripes, blue field (or union) and white stars bound together in one whole. Represented by its red stripes, a willingness to undergo hardship, strife and battle for its honor.

By its white stripes, a purity in purpose in all things. By its blue field, covered with stars, opportunity as wide as the heavens and by its stars, one of which is placed for each state, independence of all other nations. Bound together into one whole it represents strength of purpose, of right and of character for right so great as to be unbreakable. These qualities are shown in the character of our true American citizens, in our belief in justice to all, equality of opportunity, independence of thought and utterance, charity, ever giving, considering and acting toward nations as well as toward individuals with a magnanimity to the unfortunate unparalleled in the world's history. Witness, the Philippines, China indemnity, Cuban independence. The character of truth is best shown by the kind of diplomacy used by our people, never under-handed, intriguing, but ever open and above board, as shown by the frank statements concerning our aims in all wars, starting with the revolution and through the world war. Finally our flag stands for all that is most dear to us in the life of our nation, a part of the world's humanity. It's violation is taken as a challenge against right, calling for defense even to the extent that we have to go to war to protect the ideals for which it stands. It seems as though there could be some law enacted to bring to the bar of justice an offender within our own borders who has cast a reflection upon something the true American citizen holds so dear, the American flag. SERGEANT CHARLES B. JONES, Allen Academy, Bryan, Texas.

THE POOR SOB-SISTERS.

A big, burly brute in Chicago, calling himself a man whipped and beat his wife thirty-nine times. This big Chicago brute committed various other immoral crimes just outside the reach of the law. He was a demon incarnate—but nothing was done. In the solemn night time a few of his neighbors took this brute out and put a little tar and feathers on him. He wept, cried and the sob-sisters bellowed over the brute's fate as he strutted around and told of the outrage. The poor wife was in a charity hospital from her various beatings and not a sob-sister went to her relief. But the whole government cried aloud for the blood of the men who stopped the brute from committing murder. It seems the sob-sisters and celluloid reformers wept over the fate of the wrong party. Their weeping put them in the degenerate class. The Eagle feels sorry for any officer, man or woman, who doesn't know when to act the sob-sister. They become absolutely ridiculous with their crocodile tears. Moral—Don't weep over the criminal who caused all the trouble originally.

When Judd Mortimer Lewis, of the Houston Chronicle, was poor he worked about six hours a day and when he lost a day he never made it up and dreaded to do that. Now he works twelve hours a day and is very happy in his work. He is now a rich man. How times change and men change with them.

A NATIONAL CALAMITY.

The Houston Post says: "Blooming Grove is a small town in Central Texas as which was probably never heard of outside the state until this week, when notices to negroes, alleged to have been sent by the Ku Klux Klan, warning them to go to the cotton fields, attracted nationwide attention. The story has been printed throughout the country, featured in some of the Northern and Eastern papers. When it comes to putting a town on the publicity map, there is no question but that the Ku Klux can do it." It was probably an awful shock to some of the "Down-easters" to even suggest that a worthless white man or a trifling negro should pick cotton. It seems to be regarded as a national calamity for certain characters to do an honest day's work.

The Brenham turkey crop is said to be very promising and will bring considerable money. One farmer in Williamson county sold $1,600 worth of turkeys in 1920 and did not have to borrow any money. The farmer across the road paid more for his cotton picking and ginning than he sold his cotton for and borrowed half of his neighbor's turkey money to make a cotton crop in 1921, which was destroyed by the floods. Plant more turkeys.

BRAZOS TEACHERS ASK FOR COUNTY AGENT

The teachers at the Wednesday session of the Brazos county institute adopted the following resolutions: "Whereas, agriculture is the foundation of all rural wealth and education, and whereas, we realize that our permanent prosperity and progress in rural education are in keeping with the methods employed in agriculture, and whereas, we realize further, that if the best methods are ever to be employed they must come, largely through the boys and girls who are now growing up in our rural districts throughout the country. Therefore, be it resolved that we the Brazos County Teachers' Institute, assembled this the 7th day of September, 1921, knowing that the A. & M. College of Texas is doing a wonderful work in research and experiments in field crops, livestock, etc., all made and intended for the guidance and help of the farmer do hereby most respectfully ask the Extension Service of the A. & M. College and the commissioners' court of Brazos county to make suitable appropriation to continue from year to year the helpful work of the man and woman county agents in Brazos county."—(Signed): G. ## KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS SHOW APPRECIATION TO 'HELLO' GIRLS

Of times in the busy affairs of men we forget to pay tribute to those who do valuable service in a quiet way without the thrill of heroism in times of disaster. Bryan Lodge No. 64 Knights of Pythias are to be commended for their thoughtfulness when this morning at eleven o'clock they in a tangible way made recognition of their appreciation for the valuable service rendered the people by the Bryan telephone company during the trying hours of the flood in the Brazos bottom. Messrs. R. M. Walker, J. M. Caldwell, and George E. Hadley as a committee from the lodge presented to the employees a box of bananas, oranges, apples, peaches, baskets of grapes, boxes of candy and chewing gum. In a few well chosen words Mr. Hadley told of the heroic work of the operators and all connected with the company and the splendid service they had rendered and that the Knights of Pythias lodge wanted them to know that they appreciated their faithfulness and heroic service.

Mrs. Ethel Edmunds, chief operator, accepted the gift in behalf of all and said they were not unmindful of the good will expressed and appreciated the faithful men and women stayed by their post of duty, not even leaving the board for their meals, giving anxious people news of their loved ones. Such faithfulness is heroism tried and true. Those of the Bryan telephone company accepting the gift were: Ed Sims, manager; Miss Myrtle Holden, cashier; W. C. Ruchti, chief linesman; Mrs. Ethel Edmunds, chief day operator; Mrs. M. L. Johnson, chief night operator, and Misses Willie Deason, Josie Dixon, Gladys Franklin, Ethel Friedel, Alma Robinson, Ethel Sellars, Annie Mae Stewart, Burrell Tatum, Lillie Wood; Mrs. dames Winnie Easman, Belle Easters, Willie Moon and Joe Parsons.

The Knights of Pythias lodge also sent a cash donation to the telephone girls at Wellborne so that they too might enjoy a feast of good things to eat.

REMAINS OF JOE LERO TO ARRIVE IN BRYAN

Young Lero was a Brazos county boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lero. He enlisted in the war from this county June 1917, Company B, 141st Infantry. He was sent to Fort Sam Houston, thence to Hidalgo and overseas in July 1918 and was killed in action in France October 9th, 1918. When the body arrives funeral services will be held and interment in the city cemetery. The return of the bodies for our dead soldiers are reminders of the great price Brazos county had to pay for peace.

Glories Of Old Washington Have Now Disappeared

(Written For Dallas News)

At Old Washington on the Brazos. Texas, proclaimed her independence; at San Jacinto she accomplished it. The nations of earth looked on with wonder at the mighty resolves and daring achievements of a handful of patriots, striking against a mighty nation, and, wondering, admiring, rejoiced when her shout of victory swelled the anthem of freedom at the last battle ground. They acknowledged her independence, and the humble banner of Texas became the lawful insignia of a great nation marching to empire—recognized and honored by the nations of the earth. Like other nations Texas had her tribulations and her rejoicing—her years of scarcity and her seasons of plenty. Old Texas will refer with sorrow to the time when debts were abundant and no money to pay them. They will tell you when coffee fell and cows were a legal tender.

I now write of the desolating and barren appearance of dear old Washington, once the proud capital of this grand Texas. Where tall commercial buildings once stood—where churches of every denomination for the worship of God were well filled on Sabbaths—where the temporary home of our honored and greatly beloved President of Texas, Sam Houston, once stood—where beautiful cottages and palatial homes, whose gardens of lilies and roses and flowers once perfumed the whole air with an aroma of sweetness—all are gone.

Washington is the home of my birth—by childhood and my merry, laughing girlhood. Just a few days ago I visited the old home place. I wanted to go back and walk again the winding path that led down under the hill to a spot that was always cool and shady, where the spring bubbled up and the wild flowers lifted their gay and bannered bosoms to the sun. The meadow was there—the old spring was there—the precious earth was there and the old trees that sheltered me in my childish plays were there. The home was gone. I found nothing but a dreary waste. In fact, the town itself has been obliterated and entirely off the map except in name. A few German families—one or two Americans and a few negroes are all that remain to perpetuate the citizenship of the place that means so much to Texas history.

Alas! The best of our lives is made up of memories. I am like a leafy tree full of birds—silent at midday, but waking up toward the close of the day, and when evening has come, fills my advancing years full of the beatings of wings and the joys of song. My visit carried me back so intensely to the days of my early youth, that it revived all sorts of memories. As I looked over the expanse of territory which our Washington once covered—and sat down on the very spot where stood the building in which the battle of San Jacinto cleared away two streams of humanity are still pouring into her borders—the one from the north—the other from the south. Every stroke of honest toil yields a just reward. The cattle roam upon the grass covered plains. The cotton blooms beneath the stars—and the grain ripens under the genial rays of our southern sun. The grand old Texas, with the stars on her empire still in its meridian day, let us unite our forces and march together to bring out of oblivion and forgetfulness the old historic ground of Washington, and make her again as she was in 1836, like the Rose of Sharon and the Lily of the Valley.

BRYAN ROTARY CLUB SCHOLARSHIP FOR A. & M. COLLEGE STUDENT

Qualifications governing the selection of the boy which the Bryan Rotary Club will give a scholarship at the Agricultural and Mechanical college were announced Wednesday morning by E. E. McAdams, chairman of the Boys' work committee of the club. The successful applicant will be given a full course in any subject he desires to take up at the college after he has satisfactorily answered the following questions: (1.) Age of applicant. (2.) Course of study desired. (3.) High School preparation for entry. (4.) Attach a letter from registrar of college stating the applicant is qualified to enter. (5.) State reasons for selection of course. (6.) Show that outside help is necessary.

Applications must be filed with Mr. McAdams in his office at the City Hall not later than noon Monday, September 19. Applicants must also be on hand the same afternoon for a personal interview with members of the committee. The plan to assist worthy boys in attaining an education is one in which the Rotary Clubs throughout the country have long been interested. "The Big Brother" movement, as it is called throughout Rotary, is one in which all of the clubs have taken a deep interest and hundreds of boys are now attending universities and colleges who otherwise would not have had these educational advantages. In many cities the Rotary clubs have organized clubs of news and messenger boys to surround them with helpful influences rather than allowing them to drift in the streets and possibly to contract criminal tendencies.

"Members of the Bryan Rotary club," Mr. McAdams said Wednesday, "voted unanimously to start Boys' work in this county at its last meeting. We want to help worthy boys to fulfill their ambitions and this is merely the first step in this direction."

Walter J. Coulter returned last night from his trip to South America via New York. He was routed by Houston at the last minute and his mother, Mrs. J. W. Coulter and party failed to meet him at Hearn, Mr. Coulter gained several pounds avoirdupois on the trip. MR. SEALE LOST HEAVILY. President R. H. Seale, president of the First State Bank and Trust Co. was in Bryan Monday from his home at Benchley and reports everything on his plantation in the Brazos Bottom a total loss. Crops, houses, live stock all was swept away. Mr. Seale tells the tragic story of one of the negroes in the bottom that loaded his family in his wagon and started for safety when the waters came with a rush and swept the wagon bed off and all were lost but the man himself.

BRAZOS COUNTY BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPT.

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

Each week, till further notice, a year's subscription to the weekly Eagle will be given to first club member reporting the number of typographical errors, misspelled words, in club column. It will take but a few minutes of your time to win this prize. Report to the County Agent Beason, at once.

In Monday's Eagle there was an article, "Dairy Farming for Brazos County," by Mr. J. Lynn Thomas, dairy husbandman, extension, which should be carefully considered by every farmer in Brazos county. Not every farmer might be able to follow instructions given, but many could, and at a profit. With the college proposing to take 1000 or more pounds of cream twice a week, and with Bryan merchants shipping in hundreds of pounds of butter from Houston, Waco, Brownwood, Nacogdoches, etc., we ought to see the possibilities of a great industry here in Brazos county. Of course, as stated by Mr. Thomas, milk production must come at a time when it is needed and when most of our cattle are allowed to be dry. Why not begin to get ready to take advantage of the opportunities afforded us, not only to profit in dollars and cents, but also put into our program of farming another item which will be most helpful in building up our depleted soil? We have the opportunity to market each week a thousand dollars' worth of dairy products. We market a very small per cent of this amount. Fifty-two thousand dollars is not much money, but it would help our farmers and business men, if it were distributed over the county.

It is said that the usefulness of the postage stamp is determined by its "sticking qualities." It is also very much the same way with a man or woman, a boy or a girl. Mr. C. E. Evans, club specialist, extension service, is authority for the following story: Elmer Wagner, a Dallas county club boy, bought a pig at a cost of $140. Shortly the pig died, but the boy still "sticking" turned to the man from whom he purchased the first pig and bought another for $125. This gilt, fattening with ten pigs, took fifth prize at the Childress fair, third on litter, and first and second litter from this gilt Elmer came out with a profit of $299 all because he had the "sticking qualities."

Look out for the Tabor fair "boost."

QUEEN AND DIXIE CUT OUT ARBUCKLE

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Fairman of the Queen and Dixie Theatres, were the first movie theatres in Texas to cancel the "Fatty" Arbuckle pictures. This is a most commendable act. If all the movie theatres in the United States would act as promptly as Mr. and Mrs. Fairman have in this matter would not take the strong arm of law to prevent the showing of heinous characters on the screen. Eagle believes the thoughtful will endorse this action.

ers" Friday! Twenty cars filled with enthusiastic people extending a cordial invitation to the Tabor community fair will visit Edge, Wheelock, Bryan, College, Harvey, Steep Hollow, Reliance, Kurten, etc., in order named. Secretary Eberstadt is now assisting in preparing the banners to be used on the cars. Attend the fair, Friday, September 30. Open all day.

All club members in the county will please collect and preserve club exhibits. County contest will be announced next week. You may win trip to Dallas fair. Have that record book in good shape. Authorities at Washington can tell nothing about your work, except by your record book. It may be that livestock club members will be graded on record books alone, as it will, likely, be impossible to get livestock together.

District Agent A. W. Buchanan and County Agent C. L. Beason went to Tabor Tuesday to assist club members in collecting and arranging club exhibits.

In giving the figures on the three beef breeds of cattle the Breeders' Gazette, of September 15, states that there are, according to census reports, 405,582 Herefords in the United States; 416,980 Shorthorns, and 108,512 Aberdeen-Angus. "Texas is the premier Hereford state, and Iowa leads by a large margin in Shorthorns, with 69,560 head, and in Aberdeen-Angus, with 27,457 head, followed by Illinois. There are probably not more than 100,000 purebred beef cattle in the country. There are many millions of grades in herds which purebred sires would improve and make more profitable. In view of this potential outlet, as well as a promising demand in South America for purebred beef steers, the prosperity of this phase of the livestock industry in the United States is as inevitable as anything humanely can be."

At the annual sale of the Greenbriar County Shorthorn Cattle Breeders' association, Ronceverte, W. Va., Aug. 25, a club boy realized the top price of $1,185 for a 18-months old calf. The average of the calves sold was $723, or $208 above original cost of the animal and the cost of the feed while in possession of the club member.

MR. CARNES BIRTHDAY.

The many Bryan friends of Mr. J. M. Carnes, formerly of Bryan and editor of the Bryan Eagle, will rejoice to learn that he and his good wife are in splendid health and living happily and contented at their pleasant home in Carthage, Texas. Mrs. Dona Carnes of this city, a daughter-in-law of Mr. Carnes, received today a poem, written on her eightieth birthday, September 18th, which tells in verse of the blessings attending the evening of his life, and of the gratitude of his heart for God's goodness to him and his loved ones. Many sincere friends in Bryan wish for Mr. Carnes many more years of life, attended by every blessing.

MR. SAXON ARRIVES IN BRYAN FROM THE PARKER PLANTATION

C. W. Saxon, the one man who stayed at the John K. Parker Estate plantation on the Brazos river all during the flood came in to Bryan Monday night about seven o'clock and brought the news that the waters at that point did not reach the 1913 flood mark. While the crops on the farm will be a total loss he says the houses are still in tact and that he does not think the corn will be a total loss as the waters did not cover it. The store and merchandise will be only damaged. Mr. Saxon tells a graphic story of the mad rush of waters when the levee broke at the M. Parker estate place and came rushing pell-mell on the lower farms. Mr. Saxon retired Sunday night about ten o'clock on a cot on the front porch of his house and sometime between twelve and one o'clock he was awakened by a roar of rushing waters and before he could get dressed the water was coming in the yard. He made a rush for the boat and oars and put them where if needs be he could swim to it. He immediately got busy and put all household goods possible above the high water mark. At eleven o'clock Monday morning F. L. Henderson and Ben Nabors started a boat from this side of the river to the rescue of Mr. Saxon. He left the house at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon and landed at Jones' bridge near 5 o'clock that afternoon on this side of the river.

REV. C. B. THOMPSON RE-CALLED AS PASTOR

A full membership attended prayer meeting Wednesday night at the Free Baptist church and following the services the congregation went into a business session and recalled Rev. C. B. Thompson, the present pastor for another year. The membership found the church in a splendid condition with a substantial growth in numbers and a great christian spirit of fellowship. Words of appreciation were given Rev. Thompson for his faithfulness and the untiring work he has rendered to the church. Rev. Thompson, a man of strong personality, with the great love of God in his heart has by these splendid qualifications, not only endeared himself to his congregation but to the entire citizenship who rejoice in the news that he will continue to serve among us.

INTRUDER GOT GOOD SUPPER

While Mrs. Mable Castles and Mrs. R. A. Harrison were away from home a few minutes Tuesday evening about twilight a man entered their home and appropriated their supper which was on the table. When they returned the intruder made his escape by going into the bath room for hiding. Neighbors were called and hurried to the scene but no traces were found of the man. Sheriff Morehead and Chief Martin were on the scene a few minutes after the occurrence but found no clue.

Misses Margaret and Nannie C. Houston who have been visiting relatives in Dallas and Hearne during the summer have returned to their home in this city.

A POUNDING FOR REV. AND MRS. C. N. CALMES

On Thursday, Rev. and Mrs. C. N. Calmes, the new pastor of the First Christian church of Bryan, and wife were cordially invited to spend the day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bittle, and, as this home is always open to guests, and always so generous and charming in its expressions of friendship and hospitality, it was not suspected by the good pastor and his wife, that it was for any special purpose. However, while they were away, the members of the congregation played burglar, and wen in, with "pounds of every good thing to be found," and filled to overflow ing, pantries, closets and cupboards and adorned the rooms with flowers and potted plants in honor of the occasion. Remaining at the Bittle home until after tea, Rev. and Mrs. Calmes returned and found their home lighted and filled with guests, who soon made known to them their good mission, amid pleasanties and an informal program arranged for the hour. There are three cases now in Bryan which Mrs. Shearer will assist in solving to the best interests of all concerned.

Mrs. Shearer met with Mrs. Brock Mrs. Priddy and Mrs. Nagle in the public library Friday morning at 10 o'clock for a conference regarding local work among women and children.

Mr. McAdams and Mr. Lawrence were delegates to a convention of Southwest Texas advisory board members in Houston on September 7, where Mrs. Shearer spoke on the work which the Army is doing throughout the world to save girls from lives of immorality, with particular reference to conditions in Texas. A meeting of the entire board was called for 5 o'clock Friday afternoon to hear a report from Mrs. Shearer regarding the local situation.

MRS. SIMS BACK IN BRYAN AFTER SUMMER IN NEW YORK

Mrs. M. W. Sims arrived yesterday afternoon from Chautauqua, New York, where she spent the summer. Mrs. Sims came over the Sunshine Special to Hearne and by auto to Bryan. This is the thirteenth consecutive summer Mrs. Sims has spent in Chautauqua and reports this the best in its history. Mrs. Sims has the mind to see and the unselfish heart to cheer and by philosophy of life of "Flowers for the Living" she has strengthened many a struggling wayfarer and inspired them to even greater tasks, which has won for her leadership among men and women where ever she goes. All Bryan appreciates the honor Mrs. Sims reflects on her home town and the place she establishes for it among other cities abroad and are happy to have her home again.

J. J. Vandiver of the Steep Hollow community was among the business farmers in Bryan today.

BULLOCKS ARE SAFE ON THE PARKER FARM

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Cloud received a letter this morning from their daughter, Mrs. C. F. Bullock at Grant's Store, on the lower M. Parker estate farm, written Monday morning at 6 o'clock. Mr. Bullock is manager for this place for the M. Parker estate. The letter says that at that hour all are safe and out of the danger zone except Mr. Loftin on the Mit Parker farm known as the Greathouse place, and that they were sending a boat for him, water being over waist deep in the house. Charles Royder and John Ellen, a negro, were in the Grant store with water then at 6 inches but up to this time had not been willing to leave. The home Mr. and Mrs. Bullock occupy is on a high point in the bottom and above the high water mark so no anxiety is felt for their safety.

Mr. Albert Hanneman, manager of the upper farm for the M. Parker estate with Mrs. Hanneman, Miss Lillian Hanneman and A. P. Carr have established camp at Brewer's Hill on high ground out of the Bottom. They left the farm home about 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, driven out by the rapidly rising waters. Messages sent by them from Caldwell tell of their safety.

A. & M. COLLEGE HAS BIG REGISTRATION ON OPENING DAY

Texas A. and M. college opened today and begun registration of students, who have been arriving at College for the past three days, occupying temporary quarters on the campus. Long lines of students in front of offices of the registrar, cashier, and military department all day long. Because of the crowds in the rush for registration it was impossible to gain any accurate information about the number registering, but it is certain that the early rush for registration this year has not been greater and if students continue to arrive as expected today an tomorrow registration figures will no doubt exceed those for the first term last year, which was the largest in the history of the institution.

Bryan Rotary Club Hears Colonel Wood

That "He Profits Most Who Serves Best," the creed of Rotary, is also the creed of the Salvation Army, which is a feature of the address of Lieutenant-Colonel George Wood, commanding the Southwestern Division of the Army, comprising the states of Louisiana and Texas before the Bryan Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon Wednesday. Colonel Wood is a member of the Dallas Rotary Club, where the offices of the division are located. He is also a member of the Shrine. He was introduced by City Manager E. E. McAdams, chairman of the Boys' Work and known by Rotarians as "Ever-Ready" McAdams. Born in London, England, Colonel Wood has been a member of the Salvation Army for 33 years, joining its ranks in Toronto, Canada, where he migrated with his parents while a boy. During his long service with the Army he has served in almost every part of the United States and Canada. He was in charge of the war in the Hawaiian Islands for three years and opened the first rescue home for girls in the islands. This home is now one of the best equipped of its kind in the world.

Colonel Wood has served in the Army's posts in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Missouri, California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma, assuming charge of the Southwestern division five years ago. Until last month Oklahoma was also under his jurisdiction but due to the progress of the work in that state under his direction, Oklahoma became a separate division on August 5.

One of the largest attendances recorded since the organization of the local Rotary Club was established at Wednesday's meeting. President T. K. Lawrence reported that he had just returned from a district meeting in Waco and that of all the more than 50 clubs in the district Bryan footed the list in attendance but the district president paid Bryan the compliment of having the best secretary in the district. Drastic measures are to be adopted immediately he said, to place the local club at the top when the next quarterly report is made. Secretary Oak McKenzie also attended the district meeting with President Lawrence.

The singing of "Rotary Songs" was led by Gabe Cazelle of the Mineral Wells club who was a visitor to the local club Wednesday and the power that won Mineral Wells the next state meeting. He demonstrated how enthusiasm for Rotary was induced in Mineral Wells and before the meeting adjourned it sounded more like the night before the Big Game at College than a meeting of busy business men.

Colonel stated that Practical Service was the watchword of Salvationists everywhere and that while all Rotarians may not be Salvationists, members of the Army are all Rotarians in that their motto is "He Who Serves Best Profits Most." He reviewed the work of the Salvationists who were in France during the war and declared that while many of them went across expecting to devote most of their time to conducting religious services they saw the great opportunity of practical assistance to the boys in khaki and that it was this which inspired them, without orders from "headquarters" to commandeer stoves, pots and coffee urns and turn their hands to making "doughnuts and coffee" for the boys in the front-line trenches. As one dough-boy expressed it, he said, they put "Christ in the coffee" and the boys liked it.

Members of the Brazos county advisory board of the Army were guests of the Rotarians at Wednesday's luncheon. Rotarians and guests attending the luncheon were: Rotarians—T. K. Lawrence, W. R. Fairman, Oak McKenzie, E. E. McAdams, D. Ernest Moore, J. A. Moore Jr., E. J. Fountain, Roy Stone, J. C. Nagle, D. L. Wilson, J. T. S. Park, F. L. Henderson, J. A. McQueen, Sam Parker, Wilson Bradley, M. L. Parker, Tyler Haswell, R. O. Allen, M. E. Wallace and R. W. Howell. Visitors—Gabe Cazelle, W. S. Barron, J. D. Martin, Mrs. J. C. Nagle, Mrs. J. L. Brock, Mrs. J. B. Priddy, Mrs. Lee J. Rountree, Rev. S. M. Bird, Mr. Walter Chamber, Lieutenant Colonel George Wood, Commanding Southwestern Division of the Salvation Army.

REV. "BILLY" SUNDAY DEFENDS ARBUCKLE

(By Billie Sunday)

Sioux City, Iowa, Sept. 23.—I feel sorry for "Fatty" Arbuckle and don't see how any court in the land could convict the fallen idol for murder or for manslaughter. He has suffered enough, in my opinion. How can you punish Arbuckle unless you punish Mrs. Bambina Maude Delmont and the others who were his guests at the St. Francis and who have told their story to District Attorney Brady? I blame booze for the whole thing. Had there been no liquor at that party Virginia Rappe would not have lost her life. But there were intoxicants and I see by the papers that forty quarts of whiskey and other hard liquor was consumed by "Fatty" and his guests.

Arbuckle realizes that the way of the transgressor is hard. He was the movies best comedian. He was the favorite of the old and the young alike when they went to the picture show to get a good laugh. He drew because he was good, because his plays were not suggestive of immorality. He did a lot of good in the world because he made folks laugh and forget their cares and sorrow. He was the sun that shined on film-land. Now his pictures are barred. And while they are banning his pictures they should quit showing Miss Rappe's.

"Followed Own Will." Without a doubt she went to that party on her own free will and accord. From what I gather from the papers, Miss Rappe went into that bedroom with "Fatty," not because he forced her to go, for it seems that he did not, but because she wanted to go in there with him. The girl died, but I believe her death was caused by an accident, and not by Roscoe Arbuckle. That party was wild as any I ever heard of. There are many others going on that are just as wild, however, and that is because immorality is increasing. And immorality will increase as long as people disregard laws whether they be laws of the churches or of the government. At that I consider prohibition has been successful. How do I figure that prohibition is a success if immorality increases is you will ask.

All Laws Violated. Well, the Volstead act has taken away the saloons, for one thing, and as made communities more prosperous. But as I have just said, there are violations of all laws; what the prohibition act needs is bigger funds or its enforcement. That party of Arbuckle's was just a case or a modern Belshazzar entertaining in the St. Francis hotel. Fatty fell for whiskey and wild women. Old Belshazzar had a party that was most disgraceful, but that party had nothing on "Fatty's." I simply blame Arbuckle for pulling the party. Condemn him for murder? How can they? Sentence him for manslaughter? That seems impossible. Roscoe has my sympathy. He needs sympathy. But he has lost his reputation and that is enough punishment unless the testimony at the trial is a lot worse than that already given. Character cannot be bought.

Whole Push Guilty. Never again will Arbuckle have a good name among movie goers. How he will suffer for that. What greater punishment could he have? But if they punish Fatty Arbuckle they should punish those who were having such a gay time while Fatty was in the bedroom with Virginia. I understand Mrs. Delmont was running around the apartment club in pajamas. Shocking—horrible—outrageous—why not make an example of her, too? Then I have also read that some man at "Fatty's" became so familiar with a girl named Mae, that she resented that man's forwardness and suggestiveness of things naughty. If they stick Fatty Arbuckle, stick the whole push, is my say.

Take it from me, parties like Roscoe Arbuckle's are common. But all revelers will suffer. From Bible time on down to the present, wine, woman and song have been to blame for many a downfall. The case of "Fatty" Arbuckle is just the case of another good man gone wrong. But let me say once again, the actor should not be punished by the law unless those who imbibed with him are similarly treated. Fatty's guests are not guilty of murder or manslaughter. Nor is Fatty. At least I do not believe he is guilty of taking the life of the girl.

ALLEN ACADEMY BOYS HEAR COLONEL WOOD

Lieutenant-Colonel George Wood, of Dallas, commanding Southwestern Division of the Salvation Army, while in Bryan Wednesday, in the interest of his work talked to the boys at Allen Academy, at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening, at the chapel hall. Prof. R. O. Allen introduced the speaker. Colonel Wood talked on "Character" and brought a telling message out of the experiences of his own life. He urged all to profit by the splendid opportunities afforded at the academy, having been denied such in his own early life, he could speak with authority, as one who knows. Mr. Gabe Cazelle, of Mineral Wells, was introduced and lead the boys in a song rally and proved just now much "pep" could be put into a live bunch of real American boys. City Manager E. T. McAdams talked to the boys and assured them of his willingness to be of service to them. He was supposed to know "everything" and just call on him for what ever they wanted to know.

Typographical Errors. The Waco News-Tribune says: "Typographical errors never are amusing to a newspaper man unless they appear in the opposition paper." Typographical and other errors are the great menace to the newspaper editor who fights day and night to keep out errors and blunders principally caused by others for which he must pay the penalty of criticism. This is one of the prices that must be paid.

Indigestion. Many persons, otherwise vigorous and healthy, are bothered occasionally with indigestion. The effects of a disordered stomach on the system are dangerous, and prompt treatment of indigestion is important. "The only medicine I have needed has been something to aid digestion and clean the liver," writes Mr. Fred Ashby, a McKinney, Texas, farmer. "My medicine is Thedford's BLACK-DRAUGHT for indigestion and stomach trouble of any kind. I have never found anything that touches the spot, like Black-Draught. I take it in broken doses after meals. For a long time I tried pills, which gripped and didn't give the good results. Black-Draught liver medicine is easy to take, easy to keep, inexpensive."

FLOOD WATERS PASS OVER CONCRETE ROAD

County Judge H. O. Ferguson and County Engineer Horace Boyett returned today from a trip over the Brazos county road from Bryan to the Navasota River. They report that flood water from the river went over two sections of the new concrete roadway in the Navasota Bottom to the depth of 12 to 18 inches, but is now off the road with only a slight damage. The road from here to the Navasota river is open to traffic. The flood in the Brazos River, Engineer Boyett says is receding and it is to be hoped everything will be normal in a few days.

Grand Jury Bailiff. The Brazos county grand jury selected J. W. Meads as door bailiff and Judge Davis appointed the following riding bailiffs for the term: Hills Wilson, J. L. Hensarling, Henry Crawford, Powell Harvey, Joe Krc, Claud Moore, Henry Schultz and D. D. Jolly.

MR. MYERS WAS FIRST OVER CONCRETE ROAD

(Houston Post) A special report brought in to the Motor League of South Texas Wednesday advised of the actual opening of traffic of the concrete stretch of road through the Navasota bottoms in Brazos county. Mr. J. Allen Myers of Bryan was the first southbound traveler to come through this section on the splendid piece of hard surfaced roadway, passing over it in the early morning hours. The completion and opening of this stretch of highway means much to the traveling public and will be hailed with a great deal of joy by the tourists, as this spot practically closed the main route to North Texas during bad weather.

REV. SHOLL CONDUCTS BRAZOS PRESBYTERY

(Special to the Eagle) Houston, Texas, Sept. 22.—Rev. W. N. Sholl, of Bryan, conducted the devotional Bible study at the Wednesday morning session of the Brazos Presbytery being conducted this week at the Second Presbyterian church. Rev. William McDougall of Birmingham, was introduced at the session and was invited to attend the meetings as a corresponding member. Rev. George F. Gillespie was elected moderator of the Presbytery at the opening session Tuesday night. Other officers elected were: Rev. J. M. Lewis, reading clerk; Preston Scott, temporary clerk, and N. R. Hawkins, reporter.

Rev. G. H. Storey, of Corsicana, led the opening prayer, and Captain F. L. Slaymaker, field secretary of the layman's missionary movement of the Southern Presbyterian church made the opening address. Thirty pastors and elders are present from the 23 counties which comprise the Presbytery.

Somedays ago the Eagle was criticized for deploring that no business was a success under government control. It had referred to the railroad management during the war. The following dispatch is submitted: Washington, Sept. 22.—Payments of $194,300 to the International and Great Northern Railway company and $20,000 to the Gulf, Texas and Western under the terms of the transportation act were announced tonight by the treasury department. If every business had been conducted as the railroad business was during the war the whole country would have been wrecked.
